Oklahoma Christian College Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Volume XXXIV

“And Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature, and in favor with God and man.” - Luke 2:52

Just as Jesus increased in wisdom (intellectually) and in stature (physically), and in favor with God (religiously) and man (socially), we at Oklahoma Christian College are continually striving to obtain growth and strength in these same areas as we live and breath at this great institution. Through the examples of our peers, our elders, and those who have already passed through this school, we are building ourselves towards a better and more life giving tomorrow. We can truly say that a Christian Education is the Best way.

TRADITION AND EXCELLENCE

Dr. James O. Baird
President - 1958

During the fall of the 1983-84 school year, the administrators, faculty members, and students celebrated the 25th year that Oklahoma Christian College has been on this Oklahoma City campus site. The move of this institution from Bartlesville to Oklahoma City, 25 years ago, has brought about tremendous lengths of growth and excellent service to all of those that have been involved throughout the years. Oklahoma Christian College has always symbolized "Christian Education" at it's very best.

The decision to move the campus site was made through the wisdom and oversight of the Board of Trustees and Dr. James O. Baird, who was at that time serving as the President of the college. Approximately ten years ago, Dr. Baird turned over his position in the President's chair to the very capable hands of J. Terry Johnson, who has served OCC in this capacity since that time. President Johnson has previously stated that "Oklahoma Christian College is working towards a future worthy of it's proud past." With this in mind, we know that the next 25 years in this Oklahoma City community will be even more uplifting and life giving than the previous 25 years which God has already so richly blessed us with.

Dr. George S. Benson
Chancellor, Central Christian College - 1958

Stafford R. North
Asst. to President, Speech Instructor - 1958

On September 22, 1958, classes began for the first time on this north Oklahoma City landsite. The original name of the college, Central Christian College, was changed to the present Oklahoma Christian College one year later. Within these 25 years in Oklahoma City, student enrollment has increased from 209 to over 1,600, and the value of the facility has grown from $855,000 to more than $43,000,000. Many policies have been changed over the years, such as double dating requirements, curfew rules, and dress codes.

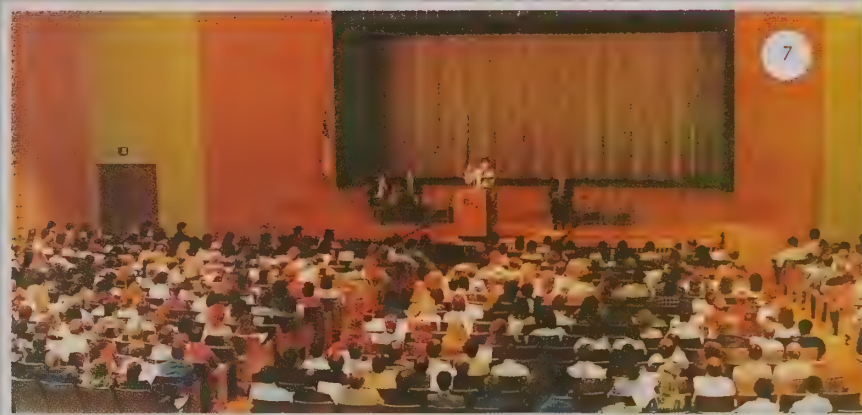

During the fall of '83, a luncheon was held in honor of this 25th anniversary, and also in honor of the 85th birthday of Dr. George S. Benson. Dr. Benson served as the Chancellor of Central Christian College during it's move. A large plaque, which is displayed on the east end of Benson Hall, was unveiled in commemorative honor of the event.

The year of '83 - '84 was highlighted by many spectacular occasions, honored guests, and long remembered events. It was a year of rebuilding and careful planning, resulting from hard-struck blows from the previous years. There were changes in faculty, administration, school policies, and the spirit which this institute thrives on. This spread represents in brilliant color only a small portion of this great year. We now look on to even bigger and better things.

1. LAURA COALE and Connie McCormack perform in the spring opera, presented by OCC on our campus. 2. BOB HOPE appeared at Enterprise Square as one of the years highlighted guests. 3. DR. GEORGE S. BENSON, Chancellor of this college during it's move 25 years ago, celebrates his 85th birthday on campus. 4. THE BEAUTY of God's nature may be seen all around us if we stop and take notice. 5. THE SIGN of our times is surrounded by the beauty of this campus. 6. PRESIDENT J. Terry Johnson celebrates his 10th year in office with OCC. 7. CHAPEL is one of the spiritual highlights of our institution. 8. MARK SIRACUSA gets egg in his eye after the "crowning" of the fish court.

IN APPRECIATION OF 32 YEARS OF DEVOTED SERVICE WE GRATEFULLY DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO
DR. STAFFORD R. NORTH

Dr. North has been with Oklahoma Christian College for 32 years, as well as the 25 years on this Oklahoma City campus. He began working for O.C.C. in January of 1952. He started out teaching Speech, Bible, Greek, and Tennis. Dr. North has served as Executive Vice President of O.C.C. for ten years now. During this time, the services that he has rendered have helped in making Oklahoma Christian College a stronger unit, both educationally, spiritually, and financially. Dr. North has made major contributions in the building of the O.C.C. campus itself since its move here 25 years ago, and has also supervised the building of Enterprise Square U.S.A.

Dr. North feels, just as all of us do, that O.C.C. has made tremendous accomplishments and growth over the past 25 years, and that the main emphasis for the upcoming 25 years will be progress in quality improvement, numerical growth, and spiritual life.

Dr. North is one of the finest leaders in Christian education, and has set an example for untold numbers of people throughout his career. We wish to thank him, to praise him, and to remember him for his services, now and for many years to come.

A WARM WELCOME TO OLD AND NEW FRIENDS

Greeting old friends and meeting new friends is characteristic of OPENING WEEK at O.C.C. In the student center, the classrooms, and elsewhere on campus, people are getting reacquainted. "Get acquainted" activities are available for new students to meet new friends, and of course those long waits in the registration line provide plenty of time for friendly conversation with those around you. All of this and much more made for a very warm welcome.

1. "YOU MEAN I've come this far and I'm in the wrong line?"
 2. LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR Spencer Bernard spoke to the faculty and student audience during the opening chapel ceremony. 3. STUDENTS who did not pre-enroll receive assistance from Dean McBride and Dean Smith. 4. & 6. FRESHMEN students participate in a "get acquainted" activity during a freshmen mixer. Female students were instructed to put one shoe into a pile, from which the male students would choose at random, and would become acquainted with the shoes' owner. 5. BRENDA HOSEY displays a friendly Gamma Rho smile to any possible freshmen recruits who might drop by, during club night.

1. A VERY "FEMININE" looking trio, consisting of Mr. Pat Allen, Mr. Allan Phillips, and Mr. Andy Benton, entertain the audience through song and a well costumed performance. 2. PRESIDENT JOHNSON serenades his sweetie as she sits a "Swingin'". 3. OUR COMMANDING performance president shows his other side as he does a little soft shoe and top hat routine. 4. MA BURCHAM, MARILYN HANKINS, AND POLLY WIGINTON gather around the old washtub to stand and sing a spell for all them folks out yonder. 5. DR. BAILEY MCBRIDE, Dean of Admissions, fills his usual place with the Phil-Moronic Orchestra. 6. PETE BRAZLE, dorm supervisor, is getting himself mentally prepared for his next solo number on the bongos.

FROM THE PHILMORONIC, TO THE POPULAR "SWINGIN"; FIRST WEEK FOLLIES ARE HERE AGAIN

Four years ago, First Week Follies made its debut on the O.C.C. campus. It is an annual fundraiser to provide money for various projects here at O.C.C. This year the money was raised to purchase a new P.A. system for the field house.

Besides being a fundraiser, First Week Follies is the time that most of the new freshmen are introduced to the faculty, staff and administration on campus. They are introduced to these individuals in a way which makes them realize that teachers and administrators are caring people, with very outgoing personalities on some occasions. All in all, First Week Follies is a special highlight of each fall trimester, and we are proud to remember each of these noteworthy individuals in this way.

FISHY FRESHMEN TAKE THE BAIT

Freshman Initiation Day, better known as Fish Day, marks the beginning of a new school year each fall. Early in the morning, upperclassmen barge into the lowly freshman's room. The freshmen are dressed totally in the latest fish style, complete with onion and fish hat. But that's not all, throughout the day the fish are required to do anything an upperclassman asks. At the end of the day a King and Queen fish are chosen, and it's all over ... until next year when the Freshmen are upperclassmen ...

HOMECOMING WEEKEND PROVIDES SPIRIT FILLED ACTIVITIES FOR ALL ALUMNI AND STUDENT INTERESTS

Homecoming weekend was filled with cheerful reunions and spirited celebrations. Clubs competed for the spirit trophy by painting cartoons of victory on the window of the Student Center, posting slogans in the gym and building floats to display their enthusiasm for the Eagles.

Friday evening included a tug-of-war between the faculty, staff, and clubs, and a pep rally with a bonfire.

Saturday brought special class reunions, club reunions, divisional receptions and a special chapel service centered around the Homecoming theme, "Celebrating 25 Years in Oklahoma City." That afternoon the Eagles opened the season against the visiting Indians of Midwestern State University. Over 2,000 spectators came to witness the young team play.

At halftime the Homecoming attendants and their escorts were introduced. Class attendants this year were: Julie Selby escorted by Kyle Garner, Senior; Larae Huser escorted by her father; Junior Marilyn Carroll escorted by Mike Davenport, Junior; Susie Casebolt escorted by Marc Gaither, Sophomore; and Laurie Odell escorted by Brute Wolf, Freshman. Each club chose an attendant and escort to represent their club for the Homecoming ceremony.

Homecoming once again provided the atmosphere that reunites alumni and unites OCC students. A big thank you to the athletes, alumni, ceremony attendants and honored guests who made this annual event a success.

1. COLLIS CLARK searches the court for an open player. 2. PAINTING the student center windows is a Homecoming tradition. Each club depicts their Homecoming spirit on glass for the student body to reflect upon. 3. THE TOWERING float of Beta Chi Omega displays the majesty of the Eagles in Oklahoma City. 4. ROLF, played by Aaron Kuykendall (Sophomore), and Liesl, played by Becky Thompson (Sophomore), sing about being "Sixteen Going On Seventeen." 5. CAPTAIN Von Trapp, played by Robert Reed (Freshman), and Elsa Schraeder, played by Heather Weber (Senior), look on with their guests as they are bid "So Long, Farewell" by the Von Trapp children. 6. GRETL played by Renee Anderson (Edmond Second Grader), presents Elsa Schraeder a bouquet of flowers. 7. MAX DETWEILER, played by Brad Bevins (Sophomore), waltzes with Elsa in his arms, as they answer "How Can Love Survive."

HIGHLIGHTS OF HOMECOMING

Homecoming is a rainbow of spectacular colors, expressionable faces, and memorable moments. The Aerie staff would like to present this edition of the 1983 "Homecoming Highlights" to you in a way which can be looked back upon in future years, and remembered as a beautifully portrayed event. These that are pictured and many more each played a key role in making this year's homecoming extravaganza a cherishable moment in the minds and hearts of many.

Robert Reed, Emporia, Kansas freshman, and Laura Rucker, Woodward, Oklahoma senior, were the stars of the show in this year's musical performance, "The Sound of Music." (upper-left) Julie Selby, Englewood, Colorado senior, is escorted away from the homecoming platform by her fiancée, Kyle Garner, after being crowned the queen of 1983. (upper-middle) Demetrius Knox, Fairburn, Georgia freshman, springs up for a "jumper" against the Midwestern State Indians in the homecoming court battle. (upper-right) Doug Bradley, Del City, Oklahoma sophomore, kept the opposing side on their toes the full forty minutes with performances such as this under-handed lay up. (lower-left) Laura Rucker, portraying Maria, sings "My Favorite Things" to Becky Thompson, Holdenville, Oklahoma sophomore, and the rest of the Von Trapp children during a frightening thunderstorm. (lower-middle) Jackie Radford, homecoming queen of 1982, congratulates the "elated" Julie Selby after the crowning. (lower-right)

DORMS AND APARTMENTS PROVIDE HOME AWAY FROM HOME

Dorm life presents a challenge to most college students. The challenge to turn that dull room into a bright comfortable home. Dorm life normally consists of late nights, early mornings, stereos blasting at all hours of the night, and plenty of practical jokes. Wednesdays bring a new look to many of the dorms with room check. A room that looks like an Oklahoma twister went through it is changed to a neat, clean room.

Apartment life is the closest thing to being out on your own. It tends to be a learning experience. You learn to cook, clean, and vacuum. Apartments are for the juniors and seniors, therefore practical jokes are limited.

Dorms and apartments are a nice home away from home and suit most OCC students. It's the best thing next to getting your own place with fewer complications and a lot more fun.

1. LATE NIGHT snacks are a trend of dormitory life that are taken a part of by everyone, as shown here by dorm residents Star Hibbard and Julie Coday. 2. APARTMENT resident, Lance Coleman, seems to have solved the problem of telephone privacy vs. roommate interruptions, as he makes himself comfortable on the balcony. 3. WE STILL haven't figured out whether these jeans have just been hung out to dry, or if a group of apartment residents have discovered a way to beat the high cost of them and are growing their own, but it sure beats stuffing quarters into slots for the same service all afternoon. 4. THE NOW-LIN center is the community entertainment center for those that don't enjoy the hustle and bustle of the student center. 5. TAMMY SMITH will probably have a high price on all our heads, here on the Aerie staff, after she sees this picture, so we have no further comments to make. 6. "ISN'T DORMITORY life exciting? HEY! I'm talking to you!" 7. EQUIPPED with telephone and television, Alice Clark seems to have everything necessary to keep a girl entertained 24 hours a day.

The traditional bi-annual Blood Drive was held on campus once again this year. The blood drive was sponsored by OBI, and was held on September 19-20 and January 30-31. Todd McRay, president of ICC, was the coordinator of the drive.

Even though donations were down considerably from last year, O.C.C. has always been a major donor to the OBI. To encourage students to participate, competitions were held between the social service clubs and the Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. A challenge was also made to Central State University, for the fall drive, and to Bethany Nazarene, for the Spring trimester drive. We came out on top of C.S.U., but failed to match the amount of blood donated by B.N.S.

That first time is always the hardest for many students, but those that give are always glad that they did. Donating blood is a reflection of the hearts of the O.C.C. community, in that they truly do give one of the greatest gifts possible; The Gift of Life.

STUDENTS PRESENT THE GIFT OF LIFE TO THOSE IN NEED

1. OUCH! An unidentified donor has her finger pricked to check for blood type before going through the procedure. 2. TERRY TURNER is all hooked up and ready to start pumping out her precious gift of life for someone else. 3. "IT WASN'T that bad after all" is the message implied by the friendly smile on Melissa Mowder's face.

“GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD” : WORLD MISSION WORKSHOP '83

The setting for the 24th annual World Mission Workshop was Lubbock Christian College. The workshop was on October 21-23, and its theme was centered around the familiar John 3:16. People from other christian campuses, as well as from different parts of the world, attended this exciting event. Once again, OCC had the largest attendance of any other group.

In picture 1, students are seen enjoying the warm Texas sun, during a break in their busy schedule. Top row: (left to right) Terry Shell, and Cathy Skaggs. Bottom row: Tammy Maxwell, Scott Sullivan, LaDeana Goddard, Brad Robison, and Bruce Boys. Many of our students participated in the flag ceremony; picture 2. The flags that were held up represented countries with missionaries. The flags that were held down represent the countries we fail to have missionaries in. Picture 3 shows students loading the bus during the persistent rain storm we experienced last trimester, as they prepare to leave for LCC.

COLD WINTER MONTHS OVERCAST BY THE WARM SPIRITS OF O.C.C. STUDENTS

The months of December, January, and February are always merry on the O.C.C. campus. Students are not found with "Bah, Humbug" attitudes, or that longing look for springtime. O.C.C. students are just as active, if not more, during those cold, wet winter months, than they are the fall and spring months. Though the winter months seem to pass ever so slowly, and it seems like Spring Break will never arrive, our students always put on that good cheer that makes these particular months so special.

Several of the winter month activities are shown here. Pictures 1, and 2, show several students participating in the Cocoa and Carols festival, which is becoming increasingly popular. Picture 3 reveals a small group of young ladies who took it upon themselves to go carolling at the O.C.C. apartments. 4. and 5. show the ever popular sport of sliding your back side across frosty ground, while spinning wildly out of control. And last, but certainly not least, that very special holiday which we all indulge ourselves upon is shown in picture 6.

1. THE CHAPLAIN, Paul Burnam, performs the last mass with Madame Lidoine, Marquita Lister, by his side. 2. HEATHER WEBER, portraying Mother Marie, is informed by the Chaplain that the Carmelite nuns are going to die. 3. PRIORESS of the Convent, played by Heidi Jones, lays on her death bed, with Mother Marie at her side. 4. MADAME LIDOINE, the new prioress, prepares the sisters of the convent for their final oath as they wait in prison. 5. LAURA RUCKER COALE portrays the part of Blanch de la Force, the main character in the French story. 6. LEAVING the de la Force family during their time of struggle was the Chevalier, played by Kerry Kelly. 7. FATHER of the family was the Marquis de la Force, played by Lane Coale.

SPRING TRIMESTER OPERA HIGHLIGHTS THE FRENCH REVOLUTIONARY PERIOD OF THE 1700's

"Dialogues of the Carmelites", by Francis Poulenc, was the first full length opera presented at O.C.C. This sixteen scene performance was presented on a cross shaped stage. The stage was moved closer to the audience so that the entirety of the opera could easily be understood.

The French production was directed by Stephen Smith, and performed in English by 26 students. It was set during the French Revolution. The story was about a group of nuns of the Carmelite order. They were condemned to die because of their refusal to submit to the government.

A part of the opera shows Blanch de la Force, the leading character, pleading with the convent prioress to let her in. Mother Marie declares that the sisters must take a vow of martyrdom. In the final scene, the Carmelites file their way to the scaffold to be beheaded. Being the last sister, Constance steps toward the guillotine for her turn. It is then that she sights Blanch pushing her way through the crowd. Blanch mounts the scaffold, facing her fears, and follows her friend to her death.

OCC HOST BOB HOPE, COUNT BASIE, AS WELL AS OTHER TALENTED MUSICIANS

Throughout the years, O.C.C. has been the host of a variety of honored and gifted individuals or groups, who made the time during their busy schedules to share their time and talents with us.

The school year of '83-'84 certainly has been no different in this case. We have been blessed this year with appearances and performances from outstanding, wellknown figures, as well as lesser known individuals with great amounts of talent.

On October 8, Michael Iceberg (1) presented a solo performance on his "Iceberg Machine", before a large crowd in Hardeman auditorium. Michael displayed a vast amount of talent as he performed on his keyboard instruments. Then on October 27, William "Count" Basie (2) arrived in town with his band to perform before hundreds of jazz lovers. The "Count" is 79 years old and has led a big band for three decades. He is considered by many as a legend in jazz, and one of it's biggest pianists.

On March 2, the Wilkinson Brothers, a family music show from Branson, MO (3) performed in Hardeman Auditorium. They provided entertainment with a variety of songs and a comical character named Cousin Zeke. (4) Bob Hope has a close encounter with Bubbin and Zazzle as he ventures through Enterprise Square. (5) Guest soloists at the Cocoa and Carols this year included Pam Green, Kay Hudson, Jim Hudson, and Jim Henline. They sang, "Missa in Tempore Belli" (Mass in Time of War) by Franz Joseph Haydn. (6) In January, O.C.C. students jammed to the sound of the rock band SASS. Here they pose for a moment of silence.

OCC LECTURESHIP 1984 PRESENTS "THE KINGDOM OF GOD" TO YOUNG AND OLD

The annual OCC lectureships began on January 22, marking its 34th anniversary. The theme for this year was "The Kingdom of God," with such keynote speakers as: Harold Hazelip, Bud Ross, David Tarbet, Art McNeese, John Gipson, James Maxwell, and Reuel Lemmons. These four spiritual uplifting days were accented with classes throughout the day.

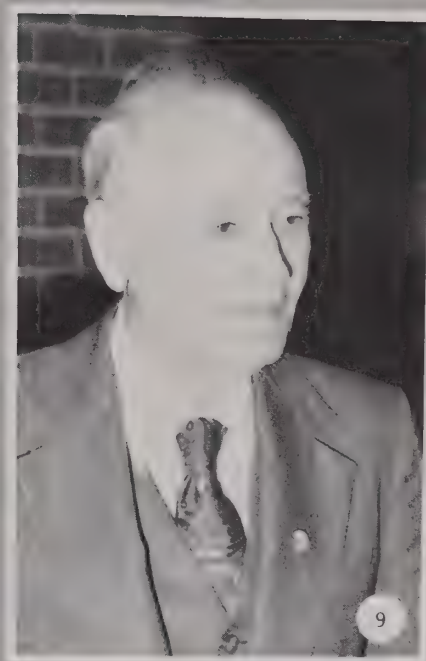

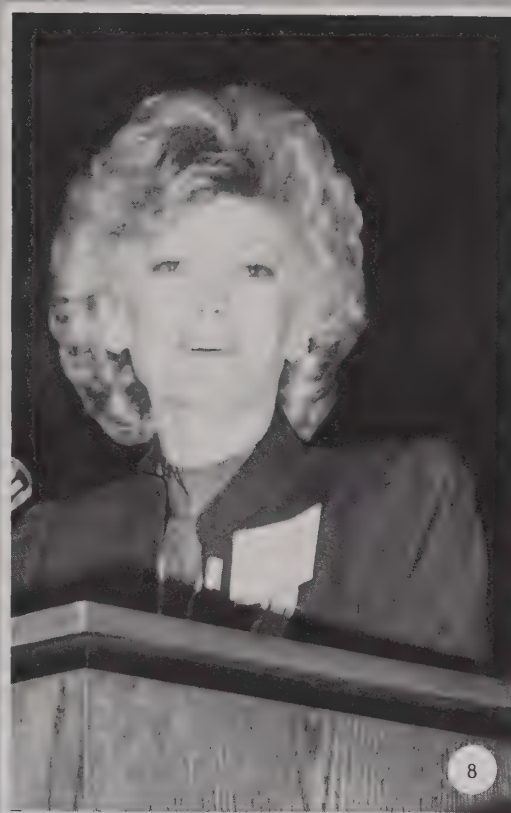

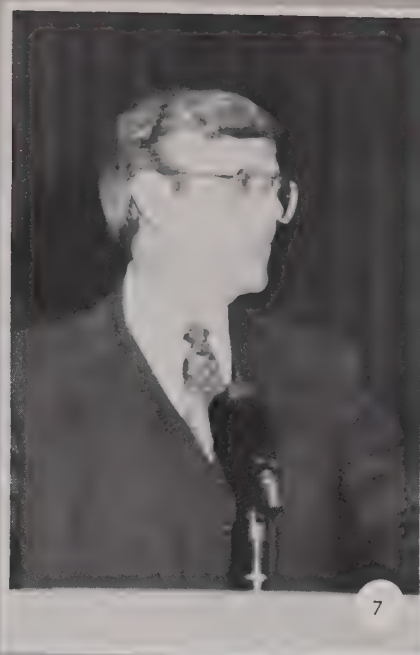

Special activities included youth lectureships, a preacher-elder fellowship dinner, forums, and a women's program. Each night, in addition to the speakers there were music programs. The Edmond Men's Chorus, Maranatha, OCC Band, and Chorale each had their turn in highlighting the evening program.

In the Student Center, pool tables, video games, and ping pong tables were cleared away to make room for displays set up by various publishing companies and missions. OCC students got to take an active part by providing free babysitting throughout the lectureship at the College Church.

The 1984 OCC lectureship was a great success and an outstanding job was done by all involved.

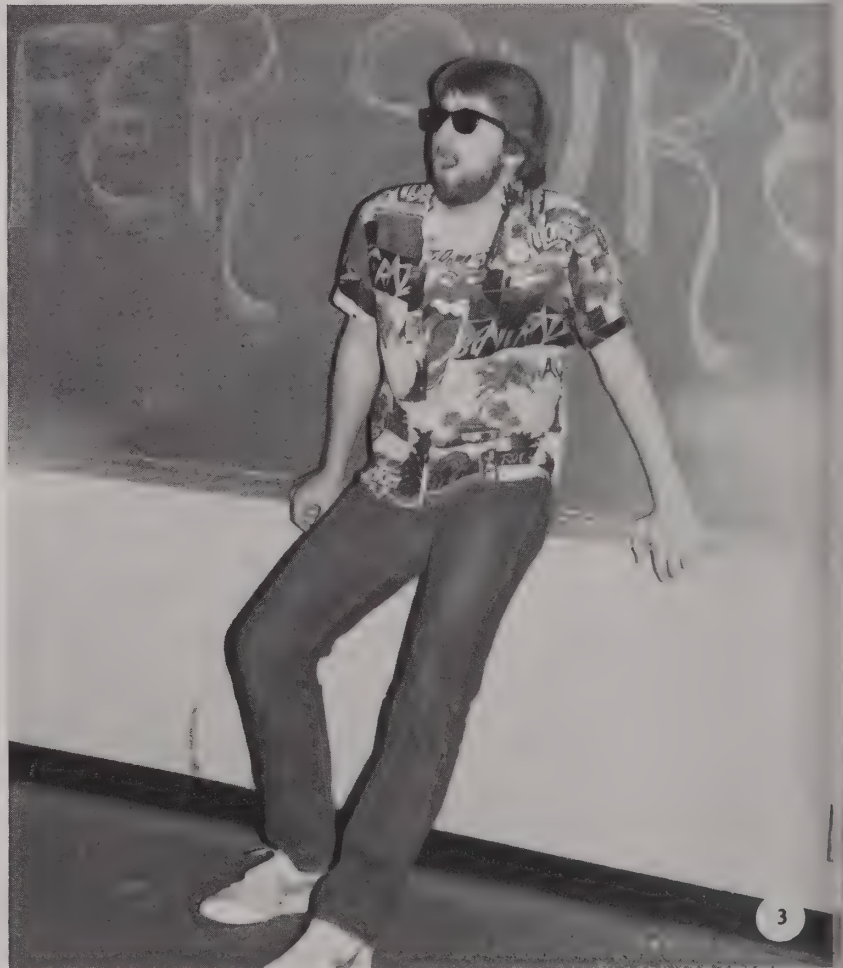

1. HAROLD HAZELIP, from Memphis, Tennessee, appeared as the first key note speaker, on Sunday, with his lecture "The Kingdom of God." 2. "THE GREATEST in the Kingdom" was the topic presented to the Hardeman audience by Mr. James Maxwell, from Terrell, Texas, on Wednesday night. 3. HULEN JACKSON was the featured speaker at the Preacher-Elder dinner, held on Tuesday night in the field house. Mr. Jackson is from Duncanville, Texas, and his topic for the evening was "Do It Heartily." 4. MONDAY AFTERNOON'S key note speaker was Bud Ross, from Ada, Oklahoma. His lecture was titled "The Kingdom is Within You." 5. ALSO FEATURED Tuesday evening was David Tarbet, from Danbury, Connecticut. David spoke on the "King of Kings." 6. O.C.C.'s OWN Mike Gibson spoke on "The Teens Role in the Kingdom", during the first series of the youth lectures, on Sunday night. 7. SPEAKING on the "Keys of the Kingdom", on Tuesday night, was John Gipson, from Little Rock, Arkansas. 8. THE WOMEN'S program featured Mrs. Lynn McMillon, on Monday night. She spoke on the theme "God Challenges Me To Be Different", at the College Church of Christ. 9. REUEL LEMMONS, from Austin, Texas, lectured to a capacity crowd on Wednesday night to close out the week's program. His topic was "The Kingdom That Cannot Be Shaken." 10. "CHALLENGES of the 80's for Christian Teenagers" was the lecture presented to a youthful audience by Jerome Williams, on Monday night. Mr. Williams came to us from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

1. THE "FAMED" Mr. T, Dave Holmes, explains to Rosanna Rosanna Danna, Linda Boggs, that those of the world are living in a "fantasy" world, and that christian commitment must be for real. The theme of their skit was "Get Real." 2. FITTING IN with the right crowd was the idea behind the skit "Totally Awesome." In this picture, Greg Lee, a teenage student, explains to his mother, Karla Taylor, how he plans on fitting in with the right crowd. This skit was designed to teach that christians don't have to "fit in." 3. JACK HARDCASTLE portrays a drug addict in the skit "For Sure." His message was that we should get high on Jesus, rather than things of the world. 4. MR. ROGERS, acted out by Neal Hunter, comes onto the set and begins going through his routine of changing from street clothes to his sweater and sneakers, during the skit "Get Real." 5. A SMALL portion of those who attended the forum are pictured here in DAH auditorium. A good time was had by all, as can easily be seen here.

"TOTALLY AWESOME" YOUTH FORUM PERSUADES TEENAGERS TO "GET REAL" - "FOR SURE, FOR SURE!"

"Christianity to the Max," was the theme for the 1984 annual Youth Forum, directed by Tory Tredway. The three sub-themes were "For Sure", "Get Real", and "Totally Awesome". Each theme taught a different lesson.

"For Sure" was headed by Kyle Bratcher. This skit dealt with personal worship must be "for sure".

Gary Cochran and D'Nisa Hoover headed "Get Real". The "Get Real" skits expressed matters concerning our christian commitment. It told how our commitment to God must be real.

Self-esteem was the topic of "Totally Awesome", headed by Mark Taylor and Sandra King. This skit pointed out what Christ has done for us makes us special. Therefore we do not need to try to "fit in".

Ronnie White, preacher at Quail Springs, ended the program with a sermon on "Christianity to the Max". Youth Forum was a success with approximately 1,500 in attendance.

BOTH YOUNG AND OLD PEER "THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS" WITH SPRING SING '84

Spring Sing 1984 was centered around the theme of Children's Literature. With two hosts, a hostess, and eight clubs competing against each other, each night's audience was treated to some excellent entertainment. Friday night, Saturday matinee, and Saturday evening shows were all sell-out crowds. Alfred Branch, San Antonio, Texas senior, was the director of this year's production.

The club directors and individual themes for this year's show are as follows: Alpha women presented "Where the Wild Things Are", directed by Deanna Ballard. Beta women were directed by Nancy Nesser, in their show, "Sheep Thrills." Beta men were directed by Tim Maxcey. In the "Spirit of Tom Sawyer," "Disney Dreamin'" was presented by the Delta women, and directed by Leslie Hill. Delta men, first place winners, presented "Robin and His Hoods", and they were directed by Boyd Hale. Laura Earsom directed Gamma Rho in "Green Frogs and Ham." Kappa men were directed by Randy Hatfield in "Boys in Wonderland." "To Lifer To Lifer To Grandmas!" was presented by Tri-Theta, and directed by Leisha Lawlis. Phi Gamma men were directed by J.D. Beard, using the theme of "I Wish I Were

This year's pit band and back-up singers also did a very fine job. The band was directed by Brian Shepard.

This year's production, with the great club participation, the wonderful hosts and hostess, and the sell-out crowds, was a tremendous success. Congratulations to everyone who worked so hard to provide this quality type of entertainment to so many people, you did an outstanding job.

WELL ROUNDED STUDENTS ENGAGE IN STUDIES INSIDE AND OUT OF THE CLASSROOM

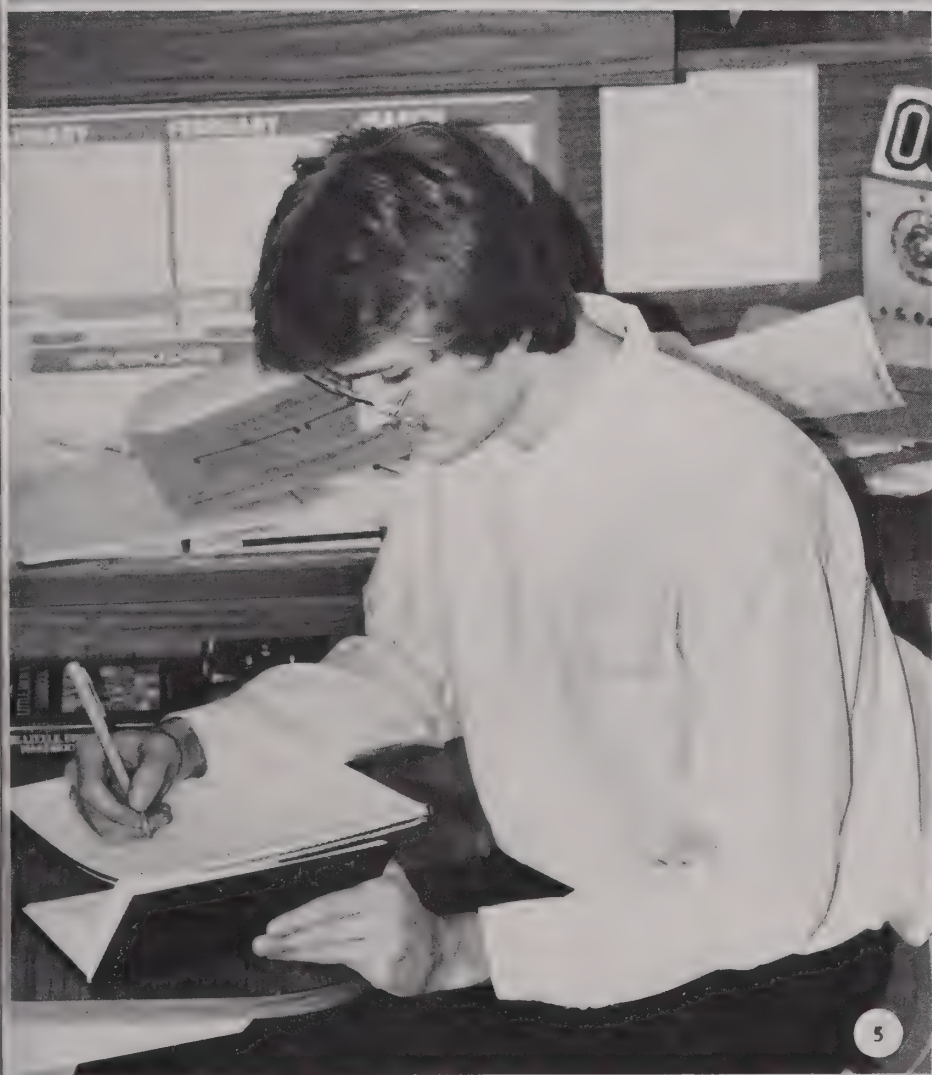

No Student Life section would be complete without a small section on that time consuming college practice we all have each day of the year, called Studies. More of student life is spent in the classroom, the library, a carrel, or any other of your favorite places to study, than any other phase of college life. While we know that this may not be true for every person, it certainly is for the majority of us. We also know that this may not be your favorite pastime, but it is an important one, and one that should not be forgotten. Good luck in the upcoming year, and throughout your entire college career with all the studies that lay ahead of you. And for those of you who are no longer with us, always remember that you are never too old to learn new and better things in life.

1. PASCHAL DRAMIGA disproves the old rumor that athletes aren't in school to study, as he goes over the books in the Student Center. 2. JOHN PENNISI conducts a small Bible class in the great outdoors. 3. THE LEARNING CENTER draws many students to study, as well as commune with friends, as shown by April Mayhue and Toni Bobo. 4. JERRY QUARLES studies and takes notes out of his Bible, in the campus library. 5. A CARREL is for those times when you need the peace and privacy required for deep concentration, as Mark Greer demonstrates in this picture.

DRAMA DEPARTMENT PRESENTS "THE IMAGINARY INVALID"

"The Imaginary Invalid" was presented March 30-31 by the OCC Theatre Department as the Spring Play. The story line was directed towards a hypochondriac trying to marry his oldest daughter to a young doctor, to insure that he and his family would be well cared for in the future.

Christopher Wilson portrayed Argan, the hypochondriac. While Argan is trying to arrange a marriage for his daughter Angelica, Donna Lewis, she has fallen in love with another man named Clinton, played by Paul Burnam. The play ends with Angelica and Clinton finally persuading the father to let them be married. Argan realizes that Clinton is not such a bad man after all, and he becomes a doctor himself.

CONGRATULATIONS TO O.C.C. GRADUATES OF 1983-84

They tell us at our high school graduation that we are getting ready to enter the "real world", but nothing compares to the real world like graduating from college and starting to hunt for jobs. Many OCC graduates began experiencing the frustration of the job market last December and April.

Graduation exercises were held on December 16 and April 20. The first annual Senior Breakfast was held on April 16, in the President's Dining Hall. Entertainment was performed by senior Ronnie Langton, from Enid, Oklahoma.

SUMMER MONTHS FILLED WITH CAMPUS ACTIVITIES FOR ALL AGES

To many fall and spring students, little is known of all that takes place on the OCC campus during the summer months. This summer, four academic sessions were available for college students. These began in April and lasted through August 3. Wednesday nights were set aside for student vs. faculty softball games. A few of the many other summer activities include: Youth Minister's Seminars, Basketball Camps, Soccer Camps, Neat Week sessions, Computer Camps, Talent Search Seminars, Teens Take America, Leaders For Christ Seminar, a Yearbook Workshop, and the Japanese Exchange program.

Though members are fewer during the summer, the campus remains alive with activities and reconstruction programs. Plans which will greatly benefit all students of this college are now being made and worked upon. These plans deal with the remodeling of the Learning Center and Library facilities.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Twenty-five years ago, the Board of Trustees made the decision to move the college from Bartlesville into Oklahoma City. This decision has shown a positive growth in the college.

Today the Board is made up of 30 committed Christians who act as the policy-makers for the college. The Board meets tri-annually to develop, vote, and act upon new policies. They also assist the administration with charity, long range planning, and the direction of the college. Financial matters and budgets are also part of the board's responsibilities.

Their duties aren't fulfilled by just attending the meetings. They also play the role of ambassadors of the college and help to communicate the needs of the college to their communities. The board also serves as recruiters, fund raisers, and financial contributors. They have a big responsibility in the operation of the college.

The board ended the year on a sad note with the loss of a dear friend, J.E. Wright. Mr. Wright of Tulsa, Oklahoma, passed away March 27, 1984. He was the only original board member since 1946. He was a sincere friend to all who knew him and his presence will be greatly missed.

Dr. Johnson was sworn into office as president in 1974, where he has served for the past ten years. His major responsibilities are fund raising, public relations, and to set a good tone for the college. He acts as a spiritual leader as well as an academic leader. He sees himself as "the window through which the people on the outside see the institution."

Dr. Johnson feels the past 25 years have "represented a successful story of the American education." "OCC is a bright spot among Christian colleges. It's a testimony of faith to God and what one's self-esteem can produce," states Dr. Johnson.

SAGA AND MAINTENANCE PERSONNEL WORK TO KEEP STUDENTS FEELING HEALTHY AND CLEAN IN AND OUT OF THE BODY

The OCC cafeteria took on a new look this year. The cafeteria was blessed with a new sandwich bar, salad bar, and a vegetable bar. The cafeteria directors kept the students attention with the regular steak night, a costume party, "meal in a peel", the candlelight dinner during WPA week, a midnight breakfast, and a Valentines banquet, where the students were served by the faculty.

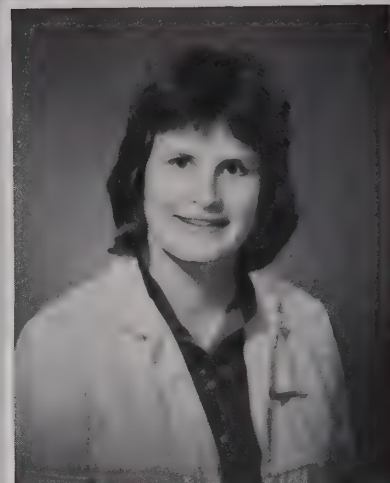

The maintenance crew kept our buildings and grounds clean and running smoothly. These people, though they are many times taken for granted, put forth a great amount of effort for the cause of everyone.

CAMPUS LIBRARY PLANS RECONSTRUCTION FOR THE FUTURE

The OCC Library is under the direction of Mr. Brad Robison. His responsibilities include employing all library personnel, providing guidelines for working hours, establishing and maintaining working hours, overseeing the budget, providing adequate supervision of all personnel, and generally administering the library "so that it fills a vital place in the education program of OCC."

The library will become a part of the OCLC (On-Line Computer Library Center) Data Base. This will give students and faculty quick access to any materials from all colleges and universities on this computer line. The line contains over 10,000,000 bibliographical records. The library is also planning on the reconstruction and remodeling of their working area. Personnel offices will be reconstructed, and the third floor of the Learning Center will be remodeled and used by the library.

OCC BIDS A SAD FAREWELL TO HOWARD NORTON

The Division of Bible felt great feelings of loss when their colleague, Howard Norton, accepted the job of full time minister for the College Church. Howard was with the department for seven successful years. This year he put behind his days as a college instructor to give all of his attention to God's ministry. He will be missed as a teacher, but greatly welcomed by the College Church of Christ.

Raymond Kelcy serves as the chairman for the Division of Bible. He is held responsible for the introduction of new courses that are needed. He works out the schedules for the courses, and assigns faculty members to each one. He was also an assistant in filling Howard Norton's position with a new faculty member. Mr. Loien Gieger will be with us next Fall to replace Howard Norton.

Out With The Old System, In With The New

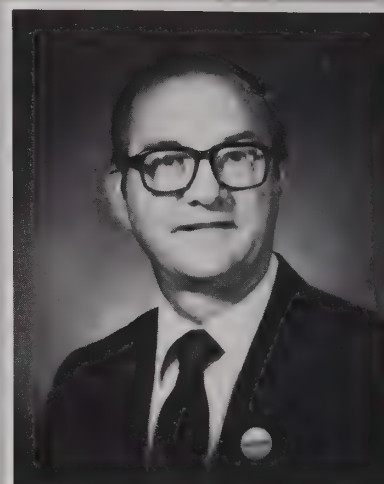

This year the Business Division did away with the Management Science major, and added the new Computer Information System. This new major will help to better prepare the students going into the business world.

Mr. Steve Small was also a new addition to the division this year. He had previously taught at York Christian College before his transfer to OCC. He works with the Secretarial Science courses, and does a fine job. He fits right into the OCC atmosphere, and is well liked by the students.

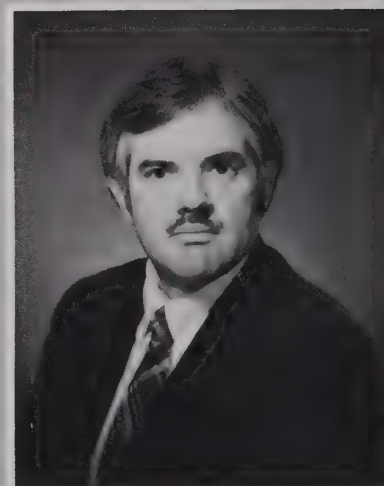

Howard Leftwich, the divisional chairman, is held responsible for the development of majors and curriculum. He also schedules and assigns faculty members to the courses. Mr. Leftwich assists in graduate job placement, and he works with the communities potential employers.

KOCC began programming on Sunday mornings, and in the art department there were over 300 artists entered in the Watercolor art show. It was the largest art show ever on this campus. Plans for next year are to revise the Mass Communications programs, especially in radio and television. This department seems to have shown more progress and advancement this year than ever before.

He is a member of the state's professional board of education, and he will be responsible for monitoring the records of each education major in the school.

The Education division was in need of reconstruction because of the program's continuing growth. The reconstruction was also recommended by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE DIRECTS STUDENTS IN THE COMMUNICATON OF IDEAS AND INSIGHTS

The department of Language and Literature, under the direction of Dr. Darryl Tippens, is a part of the basic learning that connects itself to every other program offered by the college. "The division's curriculum is founded upon the premise that students must learn to communicate their ideas and insights effectively and efficiently to a world community. The Division of Language and Literature offers a study of writing, logic and rhetoric, the great literatures of the world, foreign languages, methods of research and scholarly inquiry, linguistics, and English as a second language. ## NEW FACES BLEND WELL WITH AN ALREADY QUALITY PHYS. ED. PROGRAM

This year's physical education program, under the direction of Max Dobson, was highly blessed with two new faces, those of Dan Hays and Ralph Turner. Dan Hays took over the role of head coach for varsity basketball, with Ralph serving as his assistant coach. Apart from the fine job that both of these new gentlemen did in instructing physical education classes, the phys. ed. program benefited much from their skills in coaching varsity basketball, tennis, and golf.

Returning this year to the program was Kerry Tremain, who coached the varsity baseball team. Coach Tremain pulled the team together this year into a much stronger unit, and has made good contributions to the program. Coaching many of the women's programs, such as Aerobics, women's swimming, and assisting with the Lady Eagles was Stephanie Findley. And of course the phys. ed. program was well rounded this year as in the past by its veteran instructors. With Tommy Heath serving as Intramural director, Randy Heath serving as varsity track and Cross Country coach, as well as his teaching duties, and Coach Dobson once again leading the Lady Eagles in victory, the physical education program once again proved to be one of quality.

COMPUTER SCIENCE COURSES UNDER-GO IMPROVEMENTS

Seven new courses have been added to the Computer Science curriculum this year, and the degree requirements have been reconstructed. This improvement will become effective in 1984. A new laboratory is now being prepared for the new courses offered in Micro-processor Circuits in the fall of 1984. This summer, the Science division will receive $15,000 of the $45,000 grant from the Pfeiffer Foundation. This will be used to purchase analytical laboratory instruments for use of chemistry and biology majors.

Jim Baxter is the chairman of the Science division. As chairman he prepares the class schedules, the budget, and assigns faculty members to class duties. He Leads the faculty in planning improvements in curriculum, programs, and facilities.<sup>145</sup>

YOUNG EAGLE TEAM GAINS EXPERIENCE THROUGH PATIENCE AND HARD WORK

The 1983-'84 Eagle Basketball team proved to have that certain type of spirit and drive that overcomes even a weak win-loss record. The young Eagle team, coached by newcomers Dan Hays and Ralph Turner, earned the respect of many, and the experience that will greatly benefit their game in '84-'85.

The Eagles were led by sophomore, Doug Bradley, and juniors, C. J. Johnson and Jerry Walker. The team consisted of two other sophomores and nine freshman. NAIA "All-American" honors were awarded to C. J. Johnson (Jr.), Doug Bradley (Soph.), and Collis Clark (Frosh.).

The Eagles are now looking towards the future, and are on the right track for the upcoming year with the signing of five new and outstanding college and high school players. We congratulate them on a tough job well done this year, and wish them the best of luck for the future.

LADY EAGLES WIN SAC CHAMPIONSHIP AND BATTLE THEIR WAY TO NAIA SEMI'S IN '84

The "Lady Eagles" were defeated by OBU 69-67 in the District Nine NAIA Semi-Finals to bring to a halt one of the most successful seasons in their young history. Their final record was 24 wins and 7 losses, and this included a Sooner Athletic Conference Championship. The 24 wins were the most ever by a Lady Eagle team.

Julie Ross led the team in scoring with 16.5 points per game, and she also led the team in rebounding with a 5.5 per game average. Jan Ross led the Lady Eagles in steals (83) and assists (119). Julie and Jan will both be returning in '84-'85 as well as fellow teammates; Caren Herndon, Liz Sherrell, Melinda Savage, Dawn Fischer, Sherri Buben, Denise Findley, Alice Clark, and Teresa Durham.

In 1984-85, the Lady Eagles will have a nucleus of Juniors and Seniors, which indicates a bright future. The loss of Linda Sasser and Barbara Schwartz by graduation will be felt, but upper classmen will dominate the roster, and Coach Dobson states, "This is the year we have been waiting for - to have more juniors and seniors than sophomores and freshman. Maturity and experience are the trademarks for our 1984-85 version of the Lady Eagles - I can hardly wait!"

COACH TREMAIN PULLS VARSITY BASEBALL SQUAD OUT OF PREVIOUS YEAR'S SLUMP

The 1983-'84 Baseball squad took on a new look this year. The changes, which were definitely for the better, may be attributed primarily to the hard work and dedication of returning OCC player and coach, Kerry Tremain. Coach Tremain set about the work of building his players into a stronger, more solid unit. This he did with fine results. Along with a definite improvement in their win-loss record, the team gained more self-respect and team spirit, and also better player-spectator relations.

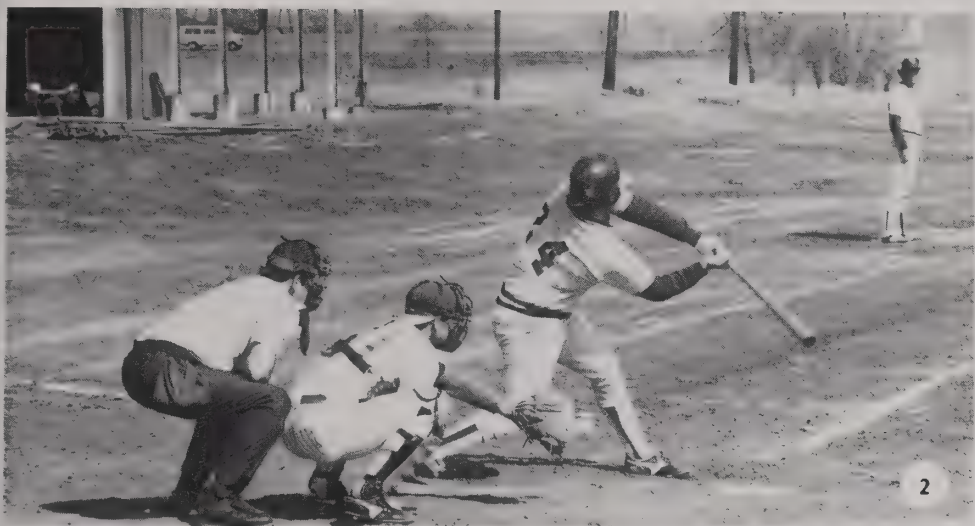

With the return of Coach Tremain and several of this year's players, next season looks very promising. We look forward to seeing the Eagle Baseball squad achieve even greater heights.

It was decided in the spring of this year, by the athletic department, that OCC would discontinue it's volleyball program for the next year.

Pete Brazle and Kerry Tremain, varsity baseball coach, took over the job as co-coaches of the team this year. The season was tough for the girls, but they never let up on their opponents, or let their spirits drop. They will be greatly missed next year.

I think that Christian education proves that there is a higher way to educate — not financially higher, but teaching with integrity and concern for students."*

But most importantly, we wish to press on the minds and hearts of all of you the pride that may be felt from this quarter of a century which this college has been standing on these grounds. It is a great milestone in our history, but we now look on to our 50th anniversary.

In the upcoming year(s) many things on this campus will change; faces, policies, buildings, and in general, the lives of students. However, we know that because the proper grounds have been layed by those who came before us, that those of us and those who follow us at this school are insured of the greatest spiritual, educational, and social experience of our lives.

MEET JOE PLACENCIA.

He is hurting for the lost people of this world.

That's why he is at Bear Valley preparing to preach.
Come hurt with Joe . . .
You will never be the same again.
Together we can do something about it.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Friends and Patrons of OCC,

The presence of this letter signifies one of the greatest undertakings in my lifetime so far. The term "mixed emotions" vaguely describes the feelings that I have upon writing this to all of you. It is however, without a doubt, with great joy and pride that I now place this publication from my hands into yours.

The Aerie staff has struggled this year to overcome large setbacks of the past, but I wish for all of you to truly know that without each and every one of you, the accomplishments which we have made would be nonexistent. It takes a great school to make a good yearbook. The possibilities that lay ahead of all of us are limitless if we will only reach out.

I hope and pray that everyone who comes in contact with this book will benefit from those things which I have worked to place within it. The memories, the laughter, the tears, and the smiles are yours forever. I look now towards an even better future, and encourage all of you in this task also.

Thank You,

Kevin D. Bryant
